Editorial Essay Assignment

Length: 2 pages in MLA format (see MLA section in the Penguin Handbook)

Peer Review: Friday, January 26th

Final Draft Due: Monday, January 29th

Assignment:

Write an editorial on the rowdiness of recent post-game celebrations at the University of Florida. In your editorial, you should clearly state your argument, discuss how your argument is similar to and/or differs from the selected editorials on the topic, and support your argument by using appeals to logos, ethos, and pathos.

Especially important in this assignment are considerations of audience. Before you begin writing, you should carefully consider who is your intended audience (besides your instructor) as well as what your exact purpose in writing the editorial. Indeed, I highly encourage you to submit the final draft of your editorial to the Alligator – so questions of audience and purpose do very much go beyond the confines of our class.
