

Appendix* of Foibles:

Falderal--a significant repetition

Farouche--a compliment or rejoinder containing blue language

Flapdoodle--a rejoinder or compliment that loses its meaning

Flench--a particularly skillful or barbed compliment; performing a Dowager Duchess

Fimflam--nonsense word masquerading as a proper word

Flub--(Original: a significant repetition) a mispronunciation or misuse of a word

Flummery--a trifling reply too short to be a proper rejoinder

Fluster--a long pause

Flummox--a lack of rejoinder

Folderol--excessive use of repetitive adverbs in a compliment or rejoinder

*Rules and all other appendices, guidelines, and ephemera created by the Compliment Masters Hal Astell, Katherine Stewart, and Jocelyne Weathers, May 2016.